

Environmental policy

H G Leach & Company Ltd is a family business specialising in the quarrying, civil engineering contracting and solid waste industries. The Company recognises and accepts its responsibilities to conduct its operations as a good corporate citizen. The Company is committed to:

- operating its facilities safely,
- minimising the environmental impact of its activities and products,
- complying with environmental legislation and
- protecting the environment in the communities where it operates.

The Company is committed to:

- Operating all its activities to high standards in order to comply with, or exceed the requirements of applicable environmental regulations, statutory instruments and industry standards.
- Ensuring that comprehensive environmental protection and safety are given the same priority as high product quality and commercial efficiency.
- Updating operational practice and procedures in the light of technological advances and changes in environmental understanding.
- Ensure its activities will not be restricted to merely complying with legal requirements relative to the environment, but that further steps will be taken based on a proper sense of responsibility.
- Communicating with the employees, contractors, and customers regarding Company's environmental commitments and performance, and to train employees to help them understand their environmental management responsibilities;
- Monitoring its environmental performance and set measurable objectives and targets for achieving continual improvement;
- Effectively consult and liaise with neighbours and affected parties, including reporting of the Company's environmental performance.
- Reviewing the environmental policy and progression towards targets on an annual basis.
