

HG Leach Environmental Policy

HG Leach & Company Ltd is a family business specialising in the quarrying, contract crushing and rural contracting industries. Minimal environmental impact at all levels is a key aim of all HG Leach operations.

The Company is committed to:

- Operating its facilities safely,
- Engaging with local and regional authorities, communities and other interested parties to its operations,
- Minimising the environment impact of its activities and products,
- Complying with environmental legislation and
- Protecting the environment in the communities where it operates.

Achieved by:

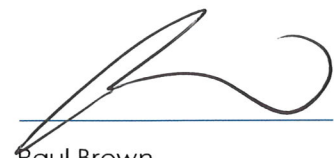

- Operating all its activities to high standards in order to comply with, or exceed the requirements of applicable environment regulations, statutory obligations and industry standards.
- Ensuring that comprehensive environment protection and safety are given the same priority as high product quality and commercial efficiency.
- Updating its Environmental Management System in the light of technological advances, changes in environmental understanding and legislation to enhance environmental performance.
- Ensure its activities will not be restricted to merely complying with legal requirements relative to the environment.
- Communicating with the employees, contractors and customers regarding the company's environmental commitments and performance, and to train employees to help them understand their environment management responsibilities.
- Monitoring its environmental performance and set measurable objectives and targets for achieving continual improvement.
- Effectively consult and liaise with neighbours and affected parties, including reporting of the Company's environment performance.
- Prevent pollution and protecting the environment from harm or degradation arising from the company's activities.
- Reviewing the environmental policy and progression towards targets on an annual basis.
- Aligning with ISO14001 Environmental Management standard.

HG Leach is a reputable, responsive, and safe family business.
